Code Review Summary of "src\main\java\com\devlopp\teq\database\DatabaseInserter.java"

Good commenting and easy to understand code throughout

Code is clear and uses whitespace effectively

No dead-code or debug statements

Naming conventions are good, easy to understand and follows Java convention

No copy and pasted code

Code follows our initial design intention

Could better follow SOLID, by reducing the responsibility of the class and abstracting more of the methods

Exceptions could be handled better

Docstring is good where implemented; however some methods are missing their docstring, like insertCourseEnroll and insertCourseEnrollDetails

Magic numbers are used throughout in preparedStatements, try using contants
